All communications, including diaries till now sent to the Plague Commissioner, will from 1st April 1901 be addressed to the Assistant Secretary to Government in charge of the Local Boards Branch.

Order—Government are pleased to direct that during the absence of Lieutenant Colonel Percy H. Benson, I. M. S., on furlough, Mr. D. A. Choksi will, in addition to his duties as Superintendent of the Bangalore Central Jail, be Personal Assistant to the Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner, his duties as such being similar to those of Personal Assistants to the Surgeon Generals of Madras and Bombay, and be also in sub-charge of the Medical Stores under the Acting Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner. For this additional work Mr. Choksi will be granted a monthly allowance of Rs. 200 (Two hundred).

2. The office of Civil Surgeon, Bangalore, will be abolished with effect from 1st April 1901, Mr. Lutchmanasami being sent to some other district, and such of his present duties as remain, being performed by a Sub Assistant Surgeon who will be attached to the Victoria Hospital under Major Smyth, and who will also be available for inspection of cholera or plague duties in the district.

Read—

Letter No. 4046 of the 18th March 1901, from the Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of Mysore, forwarding letter No. 996 of the 12th idem, from the Assistant Surgeon in Medical charge of the Shimoga district, stating that intimation of the outbreak of cholera in the Shimoga district has been sent to the undermentioned officers of the bordering districts :—

1. The District Medical and Sanitary Officer, Mangalore, South Canara district.
2. Ditto Karwar, North Canara district.
3. Ditto Dharwar district.

No. 13256-64—Mis. F. 98-93, dated Bangalore, 8th April 1901.

Order thereon—Recorded.

2. It is observed from the enclosure to the comNunication read above, that intimation of the outbreak of cholera in the Shimoga district was given to the officers of the bordering districts on the 12th March 1901, subsequent to the issue of this office docket No. 11472—Mis. F. 98-93, dated 1st idem, calling for a report on the subject. It is thus evident that the system of intercommunication between the Mysore State and the bordering districts of British India, of information regarding the outbreak of epidemic diseases such as cholera and small-pox, referred to in the correspondence ending with the Senior Surgeon's letter No. 466, dated 6th January 1895, is not being strictly observed. The Senior Surgeon is therefore requested to draw the attention of all District Medical Officers to the subject and to see that information as to the outbreak of epidemic diseases in Mysore is promptly and invariably supplied to the bordering districts in British India, and to take suitable notice of any omission in so important a matter as this. Government are surprised that in the case under advertence, not a word of regret for the omission is to be found in the District Medical Officer's report, nor has the absence of it been noticed by the Senior Surgeon in his communication.

L. ANANTASAMI RAO,
Dy. Secy., Gen. & Rev. Depts.

To—The Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of Mysore, with enclosure.
The Deputy Commissioners of Districts, for information.

Sreenivassacharlu, Rai Bahadur, Muzrai Superintendent, Secretary to Government, Muzrai Department, Inspector General of Registration and Registrar of Companies, having applied to be retired from service, the Government in allowing him to retire take this opportunity to place on record their appreciation of the valuable services rendered by him in reorganizing and managing the Muzrai Department of the State, and of the tact, zeal and public spirit which he has brought to bear upon the discharge of his important duties.

Taking all the circumstances of his case into consideration, Government are pleased to sanction the payment to him of a pension of Rs. 300 a month.

Read again—

Government Proceedings No. 7657-63—Mis. 15-96, dated 1st December 1900, calling for the opinions of Deputy Commissioners of Districts, regarding the amendment proposed by the Deputy Commissioner of Kadur to para 11 of the Regulations for the occupation of travellers' bungalows.

READ ALSO REPLIES TO THE ABOVE—

Letter No. (Camp) 767, dated 16th December 1900, from the Deputy Commissioner, Kolar district.

With reference to Government Proceedings No. 7657-63—Mis. 15-96, dated 1st December 1900, forwarding, for opinion, copy of Kadur Deputy Commissioner's letter suggesting a revision of the rate prescribed for picketting horses in the stable or compound of travellers' bungalows, I have the honor to state that the amendment suggested emanated from me. I have, therefore, no further suggestions to add, except that instead of the word "animal" after the word "each" in para 3 of the Kadur Deputy Commissioner's letter referred to, "horse or pony or pair of bullocks" may be inserted.

(2) Letter No. 570, dated 17th December 1900, from the Deputy Commissioner, Tumkur district.

With reference to Government Proceedings No. 7657-63—Mis. F. 15-96, dated 1 s December 1900, forwarding, for opinion, copy of the Kadur Deputy Commissioner's letter suggesting a revision of the rate prescribed for picketting horses in the stable or compound of travellers' bungalows, I beg to state that I would recommend no alteration in the present Rule II of the travellers' bungalow Rules.

(3) Letter No. 584, dated 18th December 1900, from the Deputy Commissioner, Mysore district.

Adverting to Government Proceedings No. 7657-63—Mis. F. 15-96, dated 1st December 1900, forwarding, for opinion, copy of Kadur Deputy Commissioner's letter suggesting a revision of the rate prescribed for picketting horses in the stable or compound of travellers' bungalows, I have the honor to state that it makes very little difference whether a horse or a pony is picketted in a 1st, 2nd or 3rd class travellers' bungalow, though such is not the case with travellers who occupy the 1st and 2nd class bungalows, as they have at their disposal the services of the servants, and can use crockery and cutlery provided for them. Under these circumstances, I would recommend a uniform rate of annas two may be levied for each horse picketted in the stables attached to travellers' bungalows, irrespective of their classes, when the traveller does not himself occupy the bungalow.

(4) Letter No. 969, dated 18th December 1900, from the Deputy Commissioner, Bangalore district.

With reference to Government Proceedings No. 7657-63—Mis. F. 15-96, dated the 1st December 1900, calling for opinion in the matter of the rate of fee for picketting horses in the compounds or stalls of travellers' bungalows, I have the honor to state that I concur in the suggestion made by the Deputy Commissioner of the Kadur district as noted in the above Proceedings.

(5) Docket No. 529—426, dated 19th December 1900, from the Deputy Commissioner, Shimoga district.

Government Proceedings No. 7657-63—Mis. F. 15-96, dated 1st December 1900, forwarding, for opinion, copy of Kadur Deputy Commissioner's letter suggesting a revision of the rate prescribed for picketting horses in the stable or compound of travellers' bungalows.

Referring to the above, has the honor to state that there is not much difference between classes for horses. The rates may be one anna for each horse or pair of bullocks or coach when occupying a stall; free when picketted in the open. The occupants of bungalows may be allowed to have preferential rights for using stalls.

2. The proposed rule makes it dearer than at present for those taking more than two animals. It is hardly worth making very minute rules for these small matters.

(6) Letter No. 575, dated 9th January 1901, from the Deputy Commissioner, Chitaldrug district.

In reply to Proceedings of Government No. 7657-63—Mis. F. 15-96, dated 1st instant, forwarding, for opinion, copy of Kadur Deputy Commissioner's letter suggesting revision of the rate prescribed for picketting horses in the stable or compound of travellers' bungalows, I have the honor to state that a uniform rate of two annas may be levied for picketting, without reference to the actual number picketted or the class of bungalows to which the stables in which they are picketted belong.

(7) Docket No. 445, dated 5th February 1901, from the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan district.

Government Order No. 7657-63—Mis. F. 15-95, dated 1st December 1900, calling for opinion on the proposal made by the Deputy Commissioner of Kadur suggesting that a uniform fee of four annas, two annas and one anna for each horse picketted or stabled in the compounds of 1st, 2nd and 3rd class travellers' bungalows, respectively, may be charged from travellers when they do not themselves halt at the bungalows but only picket their horses.

With reference to the above, has the honor to submit that the undersigned agrees entirely with the views of the Deputy Commissioner of the Kadur district, and the rates proposed by him may be adopted.

(8) Letter No. 469, dated 8th February 1901, from the Deputy Commissioner, Kadur district.

Adverting to Government Order No. 7657-63—Mis. F. 15-96, of the 1st December 1900, re the revision of the rate fixed for picketting horses in the stable or compound of travellers' bungalows, I have the honor to state that I am of opinion that a uniform rate of two annas would be quite sufficient for stabling each horse in the stable of the travellers' bungalow and that no charge is necessary for merely picketting in the compound.

No. 13590-97—Mis. 3538, dated Bangalore, 12th April 1901.

Order thereon—On a careful consideration of the suggestions contained in the letters read above, the Government are of opinion that it is unnecessary to have a differential scale of rates for the picketting of horses in the different classes of travellers' bungalows and that a uniform fee should be levied for each horse, pony or pair of bullocks stabled or picketted in the travellers' bungalow.

2. The following Notification amending para 11 of the Regulations for the occupation of travellers' bungalows will be published in the Mysore Gazette:—

NOTIFICATION.

The Government of Mysore direct that the following be substituted for para 11 of the Regulations for the occupation of travellers' bungalows, published with Notification No. 15872—Mis. F. 15-96, dated 4th June 1898.

"11. Where a traveller does not himself occupy a bungalow or compound, but only pickets his horses, ponies or bullocks in the stable or compound, a fee of 2 annas per diem will be charged for each horse, pony or pair of bullocks so picketted in the stable or compound."

Letter No. 1337 of the 1st April 1901, from the Senior Surgeon and Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of Mysore.

I have the honor to forward herewith a report on the prevalence of Malaria amongst the employees working at the Cauvery Power Scheme at Sivasamudram, by Assistant Surgeon P. Palpu, D. P. H., who was deputed by me to institute an enquiry as to its cause. He arrived there on the 21st February 1901, and I followed him the next day in company with Captain Lotbiniere, both of us receiving a hypodermic injection of quinine prior to going there, with the object of affording us some immunity. In my own case I am glad to be able to say that the immunity was conferred as I have had no attack. I since learn that Captain Lotbiniere has not come off so well, and is now down with fever. This, however, does not in my opinion prove the inutility of the injection, as at the time he was injected he had been previously thoroughly infected. In the case of Mr. Palpu, D. P. H., Assistant Surgeon, he declined to be injected with quinine, not that he had any prejudice to the operation, but because he wished to try if he would suffer without one. This he did some seven days after his return, and he had eventually to be injected to arrest it. Sivasamudram has been noted for years as being a very malarious place during certain seasons of the year, viz., between the middle of December to such a time as the first floods come down the river. The cause was attributed to the old theory which has been promulgated many years before, to disintegration of decomposing granite, as the bed of the river which is very wide in parts, is almost entirely composed of granite. That it is very malarious during these months is well known to me as I have had a very large number of patients from there, suffering from malaria, during the 13 years I held the appointment of Civil Surgeon of Mysore. But for the discovery by Messrs. Manson, Ross and others, of the mosquito theory of malaria, we should still be attributing the prevalence of the disease to the old cause. It was partly with the object of carefully studying the mosquito theory that I deputed Mr. Palpu, Assistant Surgeon, to go there, as he has but recently returned from a trip to Europe where amongst other places he visited Rome, studied malaria in connection with mosquitoes with Professor Celli, one of the greatest living authorities on the subject. (Mr. Palpu and myself went soon after arrival down to the bed of the river at that part where the foundations are being dug for the turbine house which is situated some half a mile below the Falls at a level of about 300 feet below the bungalow.) It is not necessary for me to enter into details, as Mr. Palpu's report deals with it very fully, sufficient to say, that he and I went down to the bed of the river in order to ascertain if the Anopheles (the malaria-breeding variety of the mosquito) existed in any quantities. We carefully examined some of the innumerable pools which exist there, owing to the excavations made in the granite bed of the river, by the action of water, and we found in every pool, in which there were no fish or running water, abundance of larvæ of both Anopheles and Culex, the harmless variety of mosquito. With the larvæ were innumerable eggs of both varieties. These on examination were proved beyond all doubt to belong to the tribe of Anopheles. At the spot where we made our investigation the foundations of the turbine house are being made, and we made enquiries from the contractor as to the amount of malaria that existed amongst his men. He admitted that a good many were down with fever, but could give us no reason as to its cause. He said that the Mahrattas and Punjabees appeared to suffer less than others. He added that some ten men were sleeping in a hut close to the bed of the river and that none of them had had fever. On being questioned how long they had been there, he said five days. (Mr. Palpu left, they subsequently developed well marked fever).

There are three Camps at Sivasamudram, viz., one at Rothkatta, which is situated on fairly high ground and distant from the river not less than about one mile, a second near the old bridge which is low, and quite close to the river bed, and a third which is situated at what is called the "Bluff," about 300 to 400 feet above the bed of the river, but only about 60 to 200 yards off it. Here the new travellers' bungalow is being built, and quarters for Government officers, subordinates and servants have been built at a considerable cost.

It is at this spot that the big building for the transformers is to be built, and where those who will be in charge of the work have to reside. For, from seven to eight months of the year when the river is full or nearly so, there is no malaria, as the mosquitoes have no place to breed in. Consequently during these months there is no fever, but during the remaining 4½ months, when the river is low, there are innumerable small pools where the Anopheles will lay their eggs and the larvæ be developed, malaria will be rife, and the officers and subordinates living in these buildings will be yearly exposed to malaria. I am convinced that no better proof of the mosquito theory of malaria can be found than exists at Sivasamudram for some 4½ months during the year, viz., from middle of December to April. Mr. Palpu took a census of the people employed upon the works from which it is seen that there are in all (excluding those living in surrounding villages who come to work daily), 2,181 coolies at work. Of this number 667 were suffering from malarial fever of different types of severity, giving a percentage of 30·58 per cent. If we go carefully into his figures, we see that those nearer the river suffer twice as much as those who live at some distance from it. Of the 301 who live at the Bluff, 134 or 44·52 per cent were down with malaria; whilst out of 383 who live near the Mysore bridge, 190 or 49·61 per cent were suffering; whilst of the 1,497 who live at Rothkatta, which is quite a mile distant, only 343 or 22·91 per cent were fever-stricken or rather less than 50 per cent. It is curious to note that whereas the numbers residing at the Bridge and the Bluff are much the same, the percentage of cases amongst them is larger in the case of those at the Bridge than the Bluff, whereas the distance in a horizontal direction is much the same. This is accounted for by the fact, that at the Bluff, the houses are situated some 300 feet above the bed of the river; and it is a well-known fact that malaria is not propagated in a vertical direction to any great height.

Assistant Surgeon P. Palpu, in his report, discusses the different remedies for the prevention of malaria, and though the difficulties to be surmounted at Sivasamudram are more than at other places, I quite concur with him that an effort should be made to render the place more healthy, and the only feasible and practicable way of doing so is by the application of kerosine oil to all the pools in the bed of the river. This need only be done in those parts where the coolies are working in the bed of the river and need not include that portion of the river between the bottom of the Falls and site of the turbine house. I suggested to Captain Lothiniere the advisability of posting a more highly qualified Medical officer to attend to the requirements of the workmen, and he agreed with me that it was very necessary, and very kindly offered to place a small bungalow at his disposal, and said he was prepared, if necessary, to place another bungalow at our disposal for a Hospital. I have therefore ordered temporary Sub-Assistant Surgeon J. V. Mascarenhas to go there, and have given instructions to treat all cases of fever wherever possible with the hypodermic injection of quinine.

The question of treating cases of malarial fever by means of hypodermic injections of quinine is by no means a new idea as both Colonel McGann and myself have employed this remedy for the past 20 years with great success, and it is now being taken up by the heads of both the I. M. S., and R. A. M. C., not only on account of its efficiency but on account of its being very much more economical.

The result of this experiment will therefore be watched with interest.

REPORT ON THE PREVALENCE OF MALARIA AMONG EMPLOYEES OF THE SIVASAMUDRAM CAUVERY POWER SCHEME WORKS.

Arrived on the evening of the 21st February and stayed till 28th morning.

As regards climate and natural position, the locality is good. But for excessive prevalence of malaria, want of proper dwelling houses or huts, and difficulty in procuring articles of food, the place compares badly with the best localities in the Province.

There are three parts that are occupied. The ground near the Mysore bridge is low. The small huts covered with dry leaves and twigs afford scarcely any protection against wind, rain or sun. Rothkatta, where the dispensary is, is on a higher level. Here there are a few huts of a better class, but most huts are of the same kind as those near the bridge. The occupants of these huts are nearly all coolies from outside the Province. Almost all the labour employed in the works has come from parts of the Madras Presidency, and even from such distant places as Kolapur and the Panjab. The third inhabited part is the Bluff. This is about 400 feet higher than the ground near the bridge. Here all the Government officers, subordinates and servants live. Quarters are provided by Government and are good.

That there is a great deal of sickness in the place was evident even before I got into the place, for on my way I saw several sickly persons on the roadside. During the time I stayed in the place large numbers came to me for examination and treatment. Among the Government subordinates and coolies I visited, I found several actually ill with fever while at work. It was reported that on account of ill-health coolies absent themselves a great deal and that many have gone away from the place altogether. Their number was not ascertainable. The most pitiable report was that of a woman working near the bridge. She showed me four of her relations that were then working with her. They were all ill and she assured me that ten were laid up with fever in the house in a village close by and, were unable to work.

I examined a number of people living at the works, clinically, and found a great many suffering from fever or the after-effects of malaria, such as enlarged spleen, anæmia, &c., I also examined the blood of about 40 persons under the crim oscope and found a large number contained malarial parasites of the malignant variety. In many cases of pronounced cachexia as well as in certain recent cases of high fever I noticed more or less large quantities of irregular masses of pigment in the blood showing the extent of degeneration.

Apart from malaria, I found several people suffering from ulcers. This may be accounted for by the general lowering of vitality due to malaria and want of sufficient food, and by the nature of their occupation such as blasting and dressing stones and general masonry work.

There was one case of cholera during the time I stayed in the place. A girl of 10, daughter of the head clerk, Resident Engineer's office, took ill. With the help of the microscope the diagnosis made was both prompt and certain. Necessary precautions were immediately taken with the result there were no more cases. The poor girl, however, died after 4 days' illness, notwithstanding all that was done to pull her through.

To ascertain the exact amount of disease in the place, a census of those residing in or near the works was taken.

The following is an abstract of information obtained :—

Locality.	Population.	Number and percentage of persons suffering from—
		Malaria.	Ulcers.	Other diseases.
Bluff	361	131=44·52½ per cent.	24=7·97 per cent.	1=0·03 per cent.
Rothkatta	1,497	343=22·91 per cent.	49=3·27 per cent.	28=1·87 per cent.
Mysore Bridge ...	383	190=49·61 per cent.	2=0·05 per cent.	Nil.
Total ...	2,181	667=30·58 per cent.	75=3·44 per cent.	29=1·33 per cent.

These figures relate only to persons living at the works, viz., in the three localities mentioned. A large number of coolies live in neighbouring villages. It is said that malaria is prevalent in these villages as well, but I was not able to ascertain the extent of the disease. In the above statement it will be noticed that in the Bluff and ground near the Mysore Bridge, both of which lie by the side of the river, the percentage of cases of malaria goes up to above 44, while in Rothkatta, which is a mile away from the bed of the river, the percentage is only 22. This difference can be understood in the light of the fact that mosquitoes usually do not travel any distance from their breeding places

As regards the cause of malaria it is now proved beyond all doubt that the parasite is conveyed from the diseased to the healthy through the bites of mosquitoes of the Anopheles variety. I caught several of these mosquitoes in the dwelling houses in the Bluff and Rothkatta. In the rocky bed of the river there are very numerous stagnant pools which serve as good breeding places for these mosquitoes. In these pools I found large numbers of mosquito eggs, larvæ of various stages of growth, and pupæ of both Culex and Anopheles varieties of mosquitoes. Several of these pools contained thousands of them. I made several collections of these and noticed how the eggs hatched into larvæ and the mature mosquitoes came out of the pupæ. I got several Culex and Anopheles mosquitoes, mature ones, this way.

The influence of air, water and soil in making a place malarious is stated to be little or nothing apart from the influence they have in the propagation of malaria-bearing mosquitoes. In certain very malarious localities it has been possible to protect the inhabitants against the disease by efficient means of preventing mosquito-bites. In the Campagna Malaria in Italy I have seen a number of families protected against the disease this way. The remedy, therefore, against malaria must be directed against these mosquitoes, their getting themselves infected and transmitting the infection to the healthy.

To kill all the matured mosquitoes is practically impossible. Various remedies have been used with more or less success. I tried burning Zanzolin, a drug recommended by Italian experts. It drove away the mosquitoes to different corners of the room and killed only very few. Larger quantity of it than what I had was required. Zanzolin is a powder made up of Laroicide, powdered Chrysanthemum flower buds and Valariani root. It costs about 12 tira for ½ kilo or about 7 annas an ounce. This price is prohibitive. Even if the drug could be had cheap and in sufficient quantity, its practical application must be limited. Its use therefore is out of the question.

Protecting the huts against the entry of mosquitoes with wire netting, as is done in Italy, is also impracticable for two reasons :

In the first place proper huts have to be built. The majority of those now existing do not deserve the name of huts. They consist only of a few dry twigs and small branches placed slanting against each other, which, as I said before, afford hardly any protection. Secondly, the cost of providing this protection will be prohibitive, for it will not be possible to protect a hut, however small, with anything less than Rs. 15.

The best plan therefore will be to kill the mosquitoes in their larval stage. This is much easier, for the larvæ are easier to get at and we get large numbers of them all together in small pools. The best way of destroying these is by poisoning or suffocating them. For poisoning many substances are used ; of these, larvicide, a coal-tar product, is said to be the best. This costs about 4 annas for quantity sufficient to disinfect 100 cubic yards of water. To suffocate the larvæ to death is both cheaper and easier. A little kerosine or other oil introduced into the pool by means of a piece of rag tied to a stick and dipped in the oil, will spread on the surface and prevent the larvæ getting their oxygen to breathe and thus effectually kill them. The immense number of pools that have to be dealt with made me at first think that over 100 tins of oil will be required to treat all the pools from the Bluff to the Mysore Bridge. But it is stated that from ·10 to ·20 c.c. of oil will be sufficient for every square metre of water surface, or in other words, about ½ to 1 ounce for every 150 square yards. At this rate it will not be a costly item to disinfect all the pools in the bed of the river. Even at a more extravagant rate a few tins of oil will suffice. It may be necessary to repeat the treatment once in three or four weeks for some time. To reach every pool or other breeding place may be practically impossible, but the treatment, if persevered in, will, no doubt, go a great way in diminishing the disease. It will be an adjunct of very great value to other measures. Owing to the difficulty in getting an unbroken layer of oil on the surface many a larva may escape this treatment. The mosquitoes that will hatch out of these will still continue to be a source of danger. To diminish chances of being bitten by these, the coolies may be induced to live as far away from the bed of the river as possible, never to keep a light in their huts when they are sleeping, never to get out after it is dusk, and if they do, to have some oil of turpentine, which may be issued to them, rubbed on exposed parts of their body. In Italy hoods and gloves made of wire netting are used, but this is not practicable in this country, as in the case of our coolies nearly the whole body is usually exposed and has to be protected. In the case of those that can afford it, the use of mosquito nets must be insisted on.

Mosquito-bites are usually harmless unless the insects are infected. To prevent mosquitoes getting infected we have to kill the parasites in the blood of infected persons. With this view 15 to 20 grains of quinine may be given twice a day to all those that are actually suffering from the disease till all the parasites in their blood have disappeared. And as a prevention those uninfected may be given 10 to 15 grains of the drug every 5 or 6 days as long as they remain in the infected area. There is no inducement required to make the people take the drug. Quinine is a favorite remedy. I gave subcutaneous injections of it to over 100 persons during my stay in the place. The coolies, officers and subordinates took it without any trouble. One evening I injected 40 people straight off near the bridge. The result of the treatment was good as far as I was able to ascertain before I left. The remedy, however, has to be continued for some time before any permanent benefit is expected. In cases of the malignant variety with plenty of crescents in the blood, the drug has to be given in large doses for a considerable time before the crescents disappear. Taking on an average about 700 persons, including those living in adjacent villages, require to be given from 10 to 20 grains of the drug a day, 1 to 2 lbs. of it will be required daily, and this will cost from Rs. 15 to Rs. 30. It may be possible to reduce this expenditure after some time, but at first a free distribution in large doses will be required. The expenditure under this head appears a huge item, but it is estimated that at the rate the coolies are now dropping off from work, on account of ill-health, from 10 to 15 thousand coolies will be employed in the works altogether; and of this, should no preventive measures be adopted, over 30 per cent or from 3,000 to 5,000 will be ruined in health and as many families made destitute.

ORDER THEREON—Recorded with the observation that it is hoped that the remedy proposed will prove efficacious and successful.

Mr. Mascarenhas having been temporarily employed for a special duty and his services having since been ordered to be dispensed with in Government Proceedings No. 13503-4—Mis. 3526, dated 11th April 1901, owing to the termination of that duty, the Senior Surgeon will be good enough to post to Sivasamudram, as early as possible, a good and capable officer from among the Assistant or Sub-Assistant Surgeons on the permanent Medical establishment of the State.

Letter No. 1656, dated the 27th March 1901, from the First Assistant to the Hon'ble the Resident in Mysore.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 9533—Pol. F. 193-92, dated the 29th January 1901, forwarding a report on the condition of the principal stations of the Great Trigonometrical Survey situated in the Mysore State during the year 1900.

2. The report was communicated to the Superintendent, Trigonometrical Surveys, Dehra Dun, who has now intimated that it is complete and satisfactory.

3. Six blank copies of the form of Annual Return are enclosed, on the first page of which will be found "Notes on the preparation of the Return" and "Measures necessary for the protection of Stations." Attention is also invited to the following Memorandum:—

PROTECTIVE MEASURES.

The most important measure is to prevent the mark-stones in the basement of the pillars from being disturbed; when therefore a pillar has entirely fallen down, it will suffice if the debris is heaped over it in the form of a cone and plastered with mud, which can be effected at a trifling expense. If it should, however, happen that the mark-stone has been removed, every endeavour should be made to preserve the site by raising a mound of earth, or of earth and stones, a few feet high, over the spot whence the mark-stone has been removed. See also page 1 of the Form of Annual Return for further details, if desired.

As the funds available for the protection of Stations do not allow of a greater average expenditure than Rs. 4 or 5 per station annually, the repairs should be restricted to the protective measures detailed above.

No. 13693-700—M. F. 193-92, DATED BANGALORE, 13TH APRIL 1901.

ORDER THEREON.—Communicated to the Deputy Commissioners of districts, for information and guidance.

2. One of the blank copies of the Form of Annual Return, received with the First Assistant Resident's letter read above, will be forwarded to the Superintendent of the Government Press with a request that he will have a few copies thereof printed and kept in stock in the Stationery Depot for supply to the Deputy Commissioners on application.

JUDICIAL

Proceedings of the Government of Mysore,

READ AGAIN—

Government Notification No. 8052—J. 805, dated the 11th December 1900, republishing the revised rules for the grant of shooting passes to British soldiers prescribed by the Government of India.

READ—

Memo No. 1275, dated 13th March 1901, from the First Assistant to the Resident in Mysore, forwarding copies of the following papers :—

Letter No. 3472-81, dated the 31st December 1900, from Mr. J. P. Hewett, C. S. I., C. I. E., Secretary to Government of India, to Local Governments and Administrations.

I am directed to forward a copy of the revised rules for the grant of shooting passes to British soldiers in India, which have been approved by the Governor General in Council and published in the Gazette of India of the 27th October last, and to request that [with the permission of the Governor in Council / His Honor the Lieut. Governor and Chief Commissioner] the special attention of the Local Civil Officers concerned in the administration of the rules may be drawn to them.

2. These rules are drawn up chiefly for the guidance of the Military authorities, but their successful working cannot be insured without the co-operation of the Civil Officers. The Governor General in Council therefore considers it necessary that the duties of the latter class of officers respecting this matter should be clearly laid down.

3. In Rule 4 of the revised rules it has been provided that the Commanding Officer of a Regiment or Detachment is at once to send to the District Magistrate the substance of any report (together with a copy of the complaint, if any) that may be made by the member of a shooting party who is in charge of the party, on their return to quarters, respecting any breach of the rules, any affray with natives, or any mishap which may have occurred during the absence of the party. The Government of India consider it necessary that the District Officer also should communicate to the Commanding Officer immediate information of any breach of the rules by men under his command that may be reported to the Civil authorities. Cases have come to the notice of the Governor General in Council in which the Civil authorities have omitted to make a report upon such occurrences to the Officer Commanding the Regiment, who remained in ignorance of the affair until a report was called for from Army Head-Quarters, or by the Government of India, or until the Police inquiry had been completed. I am to request that, to enable the Commanding Officer of a Regiment or Detachment to take suitable notice of any infringement of the shooting pass rules, orders may be issued which will insure due information being communicated by the District Officer to the local Military authorities in cases which may come to his notice.

4. Rule 25 of the revised rules lays down that Officers Commanding Stations and Officers Commanding Troops about to march will communicate with the Civil District Officer in order to ascertain (a) in what localities shooting ought to be forbidden, and (b) what animals or birds are regarded by the inhabitants as sacred or are protected by rules relating to the establishment of a close season. There is, however, more continuity in the Civil District Offices, where the establishments, if not the officers, are to a great extent permanent, than in Military Cantonments. With a view, therefore, to guarding against the provisions of the rule being overlooked, I am to request that instructions may be issued to Commissioners and District Officers to the effect that, on the arrival of a corps or detachment in a Civil District, the District Officer shall at once certify to the Officer Commanding the corps or detachment what localities, animals and birds are forbidden for shooting purposes, either absolutely on account of the prejudices of the inhabitants, or for parts of the year in accordance with rules for close seasons. In defining tracts of country where shooting is to be allowed, the local officers should be directed to bear in mind the orders contained in Home Department Circular letter No. $\frac{30}{1012-1028}$, dated the 31st July 1883, and to take care that no tracts are included where owing to the religious prejudices of the people, the agricultural circumstances of the district, or other sufficient causes, there would be risk of danger if free permission to shoot were accorded.

5. In the Circular of the 31st July 1883 referred to above, and in that of 1891 marginally noted, Local Governments and Administrations were requested to instruct the District authorities to cause the shooting pass rules to be explained to villagers in the neighbourhood of cantonments, and to warn such villagers against interfering with soldiers out shooting and using violence to them, and also against taking the law into their own hands in cases in which soldiers infringe the rules. The Governor General in Council now directs that the substance of the revised rules, so far as they affect the villagers, should be periodically notified in simple language in the villages and tracts where soldiers are in the habit of shooting, and that District Officers should impress upon landlords, headmen and village police that they are expected to give their assistance in avoiding disputes with soldiers out shooting. The headmen and village police must see that soldiers conducting themselves properly are not molested, and that any complaints of misconduct are reported to the proper authorities. In cases in which notice of the probable advent of a shooting party has been sent to the District Officer under Rule 26 of the revised rules, he should, with as little delay as possible, send intimation to the headmen and village police (so far as this can be done) stating that a shooting pass has been issued and that they are to see that quarrels are avoided. Villagers should on no account take the law into their own hands, but should lodge any complaint they have to make in a legal manner.

No. $\frac{18}{1230-1239}$, dated the 1st July 1891.

6. In the Circular from this Department, No. $\frac{50}{2349-2358}$, dated the 14th October 1887, the importance of conducting prompt investigation into cases of affrays between European soldiers and native villagers was inculcated; and it was desired that, on the occurrence of a serious affray, the District Magistrate should invariably either himself proceed to the place or at once depute an European Magistrate or the District Superintendent of Police in order to investigate the matter on the spot at the earliest possible time after the occurrence. I am now to request that instructions may be issued that the investigation of a case between natives and soldiers arising out of a shooting dispute should, whenever possible, be entrusted to an English Magistrate or Police Officer not lower in rank than Assistant Superintendent, and that when such cases come into Court they should be tried by the District or Joint Magistrate. In cases which are not cognizable by the Police, or where the prosecution is not undertaken by the Civil authorities, the Civil District Officer shall inform the Commanding Officer of the Corps or Detachment concerned to that effect for such action as the latter may consider fit to take.

7. In conclusion, I am to say that the Government of India think it desirable that each Commissioner, District and Sub-Divisional Magistrate should be furnished with a copy of the revised rules as a separate publication.

2. Letter No. 352 C., dated the 30th January 1901, from the Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, to the Adjutant General in India.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 3635-D, dated 21st December 1900, regarding the issue of shooting passes to non-commissioned officers of Royal Engineers attached to the Corps of Sappers and Miners and warrant and non-commissioned officers on the permanent staff of Hill Depots.

2. It is stated that the isolated position of these warrant and non-commissioned officers does not admit of their going out shooting in company with two other men as required by paragraph 3, Part I of the revised rules for the grant of shooting passes; it is accordingly recommended that an exception may be made in their favor, and that they be included in the concession allowed by paragraph 34, Part V of the rules, i. e., that they be allowed to receive a pass to shoot alone if the officer granting it is satisfied that the warrant officer or sergeant has sufficient knowledge of the language to enable him to converse with the inhabitants, and provided that this relaxation of the general rule only applies to warrant officers and sergeants on the permanent staff of Hill Depots during the winter months.

3. In reply I am to say that the Government of India sanction the proposal.

Letter No. 3268—357, dated the 22nd March 1901, from the Inspector General of Police in Mysore, to the Secretary to the Government of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

With reference to Government Proceedings No. 653-54—J. 67, dated 16th July 1900, defining the powers of this office in regard to expenditure under rewards for "Good service," I have the honor to state that the existing practice now in the districts, is that previous sanction of this office is invariably obtained, in every instance, for the grant of rewards for good service, irrespective of the amounts of reward; this office submitting cases of rewards of Rs. 50 and above to Government for sanction. As the occasions for such rewards are not numerous in the districts, no practical inconvenience is felt, and the practice has an advantage in that every instance of good work is brought to the special notice of the Head of the Department.

The circumstances of the Kolar Gold Fields are, however, different. The present practice requiring sanction in every case entails heavy correspondence and delay in disposal of the recommendations, while the effect of such rewards is lost, if not promptly made. I beg therefore to recommend that the Superintendent, Kolar Gold Fields, may be empowered to grant rewards for good service not exceeding Rs. 10 in each case, and that on his recommendation the Deputy Commissioner, Kolar district, may, within the same area, be authorised to sanction rewards up to Rs. 25. Above these limits, sanction of this office and of Government, will be obtained as heretofore. Should the Government be pleased to approve of my proposal, I shall instruct the Superintendent, Kolar Gold Fields, to submit a monthly statement of expenditure on rewards sanctioned by him and the Deputy Commissioner for the information of this office.

NOTIFICATION

No. 13320—Legis. 94, dated Bangalore, 8th April 1901.

In exercise of the powers conferred by the Mysore Village Sanitation Regulation, I of 1898, the Government are pleased to make the following alterations in the Rules issued thereunder, namely :—

(i) In Section II insert the following Rule—

"(i) A. The Government may call for the record of any order passed under these Rules by any of the authorities referred to in the preceding Rule, for the purpose of satisfying itself as to the propriety of such order. If in any such case it shall appear to the Government that any order the record of which is so called for should be modified annulled, or reversed, the Government may pass such order thereon as it deems fit."

(ii) For Rule 3 in Section III substitute the following :—

"No person shall erect a new house or rebuild an old one without the written permission of the Sanitary Agency. Such permission may be refused if the Sanitary Agency is of opinion that the building or rebuilding of the house is objectionable on sanitary grounds. The Sanitary Agency may require that the house shall not be built within five feet of the street, and may also prescribe the conditions as to drainage, ventilation and privy arrangements subject to which it shall be built.

"Provided that permission shall be presumed to have been granted if its refusal is not communicated within a month of the application, and that an appeal shall lie to the Municipal or District Board, as the case may be, from a refusal of the Sanitary Agency to grant permission."

(1) Letter No. 17, dated the 17th February 1894, from the Dewan of Mysore, to the Resident in Mysore.

I have the honor to submit herewith a Draft Regulation* to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of wild animals and birds, and to provide generally for the protection of game and fish in Mysore, and to request that the Durbar may be favored with the general views of the Government of India on the proposed measure. It does not modify or affect any law specified in the Schedule appended to the Instrument of Transfer, but His Highness the Maharaja nevertheless desires to have the benefit of the advice of His Excellency the Viceroy before taking further action in a matter of this special nature, which, it seems, was under the consideration of both the Government of India and the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State on a reference from the Government of Madras. (Vide Secretary of State's Despatch, dated 13th November 1890, and the Government of India's Letter, dated 24th February 1891, No. 531, quoted in the Statement of Objects and Reasons printed with Madras Bill No. 2 of 1892.)

2. The necessity for resorting to legislation in this matter was repeatedly pressed on the Durbar's attention by, among others, the Planting community and European sportsmen. It is intended by the proposed law to place under restrictions, on humane and utilitarian considerations, the killing of wild animals and birds, which have their appointed uses in the economy of nature, and which are at present in some danger of rapid extinction from unsportsmanlike and unlicensed destruction, without discrimination of season, age and sex. The killing of animals and birds for the sake of their skins and plumage is also proposed to be restricted by means of licenses.

3. The scope and objects of the proposed Regulation are fully set forth in the accompanying printed Memo and Extract from my Address to the Representative Assembly at the Dasara of 1893, to which a reference is solicited. It will be seen that in framing the Regulation, we have strictly adhered to the principle laid down by the Government of India in February 1891 for the Madras Government, that its sole object should be 'the protection of the wild creatures themselves and not of private property in game.' This principle commends itself most highly to the State and to the people, and indeed I would go so far as to say that it is only our rigid adherence to it that constitutes the justification of the proposed measure. Our provisions for the protection of wild animals and birds, in deference to popular sentiment and from humane considerations, have had of course to be duly restricted so as not to interfere with the immemorial rights of the people to kill them for food or sport, and the Durbar have no hesitation in thinking that the proposed law, while infringing no vested interests, makes adequate provision for the preservation of wild animals and birds, and of fish and game.

(Enclosure I.)

MEMO.

A law for the protection of game and fish has been pressed upon the consideration of the Durbar for some time past by the Planters' Association and others interested in sport. In considering this subject, the Government found reason to believe that besides wild animals and birds which are killed for food, there is a destruction on a large scale of other species for commercial purposes, for the sake of their skins and plumage. If sufficient protection is not afforded to these latter, and if their killing is not placed under due restrictions, the time may not be far distant when they are likely to become extinct.

There are also some kinds of insectivorous birds the killing of which should be prohibited in the interests of agriculture.

There is yet another class which are killed neither for food nor for commercial purposes, such for instance as the monkey and the Brahminy Kite (Haliastur Indus) but may be killed out of pure mischief. Out of humane considerations and, in some instances, in deference to popular sentiment also, the killing of such specially notified animals and birds should be absolutely prohibited. It is true that no real sportsman will kill them, but it is desirable to expressly provide against such acts. The Regulation will provide for these three classes, viz:—

1st, those ordinarily used for food and defined as Game,

2nd, those killed for their skins and plumage,

3rd, those which do not come under the definition of Game, but may be protected by special notification of the Government in deference to popular sentiment or in the interests of agriculture.

It is considered desirable to extend the Regulation to the whole Province. It will be seen from the definition of Game, which is very comprehensive, that there are several animals, such as bison, sambhar, jungle-sheep, and birds, such as jungle-fowl and spur-fowl, which live exclusively in jungle tracts, and others exclusively in maidan or open tracts. By restricting the Regulation to jungle tracts alone, the latter will have no protection.

As regards the 1st class (game and fish,) the Draft Regulation, Section 6, provides a close season for temporary protection of particular descriptions and for absolute protection of the female or immature young.

As regards the 2nd class, it is deemed desirable to place their killing under more stringent restrictions, and this is proposed to be effected by means of a license system and by temporary protection (Section 4).

As regards the 3rd class which will be outside the definition of Game, absolute protection is provided by Section 3.

(Enclosure II.)

EXTRACT FROM THE DEWAN'S ADDRESS TO THE REPRESENTATIVE ASSEMBLY AT THE DASARA OF 1893.

Game Law.—You are aware that a Game Law has been pressed upon the consideration of Government by the Planting community and persons interested in sport. The subject is one which is surrounded by unusual difficulties; for, while such a law must be mainly grounded upon considerations of humanity and the necessity for conserving useful species of animals and birds, it must not attempt to extinguish the immemorial rights of the people to kill game for food or sport, nor to create any monopoly in animals and birds in a state of nature for the benefit of Government or of sportsmen. A Draft Regulation has been framed and is now before you, and the Government will be glad to have any suggestions you may wish to offer in regard to it. To ensure the due propagation and perpetuation of useful species of game and fish, the Regulation provides for the protection of such species, with reference to time, place, sex and growth, manner of killing and the implements of destruction. It also empowers the Government to afford absolute protection to specified insectivorous birds and to animals and birds whose killing would be unsportsmanlike or viewed with popular disfavor. The killing of animals or birds for the commercial value of their skins and plumage is proposed to be placed under due restrictions by means of a system of licenses.

It will thus be seen that the legislation proposed is based both upon humane and utilitarian considerations, and respecting as it does the reasonable claims of the community in regard to sport and food, it is the hope of Government that the Draft Regulation will meet with the unanimous approval of this Assembly.

(2) Letter No. 2892—72-94, dated the 21st August 1894, from the First Assistant to the Resident in Mysore.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 17, dated the 17th February 1894, submitting a Draft Regulation to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of wild animals and birds and to provide generally for the protection of game and fish in Mysore, and requesting that the Darbar may be favored with the views of the Government of India on the proposed measure.

2. In reply I am to state that the Draft Regulation was forwarded to and considered by the Government of India, who have desired that the objections that were taken to the proposed legislation in Madras and the grounds on which it was abandoned in 1893 should be communicated to the Darbar.

3. The first Bill proposed by the Madras Government on the subject was forwarded to the Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State, who expressed doubts as to the advisability of the proposed measure, and desired the Madras Government, before proceeding with it, to consult the Government of India. The Governor General in Council raised objections to two provisions of the Bill, namely, (1) that relating to the extension of the Act to any part of the Presidency, and (2) that requiring sportsmen to take out licenses, observing that there would be no serious objections to the extension of the enactment to areas similar in character to the Nilgiris, and that the sole object of any such measure as that proposed should be the protection of the wild creatures themselves and not of private property in game.

4. Accordingly, the Madras Government revised the Bill, omitting the obnoxious provisions, and the Bill so revised again went up to the Government of India, who, assuming that the Secretary of State did not mean to interfere with it, made the following remarks:—

(a) In the definition of game in section 3 of the Bill, the omission of 'snipe' was recommended. The snipe is a migratory bird, and a marsh which may have been full of these birds on one day may be absolutely without any on the following day, the birds having gone to some other marsh many miles away The protection of such birds did not therefore appear to be called for.

It was also considered questionable whether antelope should be mentioned in the section. In some parts of the country antelope cause great injury to crops, but the Government of India did not think it requisite to press this objection if it was understood that, in any locality in which this was the case, the stringent provisions of Section 5 with regard to antelope would not be enforced. Section 11 of the Bill did not appear to afford sufficient protection against animals which injure crops. An owner or occupier may have had his crops seriously injured by game which, before he has discovered his loss, has gone beyond the limits of his land, and there is no reason why he should not in such a case be at liberty to kill, capture or pursue the game in question. The omission of the words "within the limits of such land" in section 11, and the insertion of the words "so far as this is necessary for the protection of the crop" or others to the same effect, at the end of the section were, therefore, suggested.

(b) Section 4, clause (2), provided that rules might, among other matters, be made for regulating the poisoning of the water of any stream or lake. The Governor General in Council was of opinion that a right to poison water should not under any circumstances be recognised; but, on the other hand, it was understood that the words 'the placing or throwing of any explosive or deleterious substance therein' were intended to cover cases in which dynamite may be properly used in water not for the purpose of slaying fish, and in which deleterious substances may come from factories or the like. It was therefore pointed out that the words 'or regulate' in line 2 of section 4, clause (2), should be omitted, and the words 'and prohibit or regulate' added after 'like' in line 4.

(c) It was considered that the words 'any description of' in section 5, clause (1) and the words 'of any descriptions' in sub-section (2) and the word 'descriptions' in sub-section (3) of the same section, should perhaps be omitted, and the words 'of any specified kind' added after 'fish' in each of the sub-sections (1) and (2), and the words 'specified kinds' substituted for 'descriptions' in sub-section (3). This seemed to be necessary as there might be a different season for each kind of game, and in some of the kinds mentioned there seemed to be no reason for specially reserving the females.

(d) In line 1 of section 7 the insertion of the word 'wilfully' before 'kills' appeared to be necessary to meet the case of, for example, the inadvertent killing of game found to be immature or of the female sex.

5. But the Secretary of State drew the attention of the Madras Government to certain criticisms passed upon the revised Bill and asked the Governor in Council carefully to consider those criticisms in communication with the Government of India, and not to proceed with the measure unless it was satisfactorily established that the people of the tract to which it was proposed that the Bill should apply would not suffer in either the matter of food-supply or injury to crops or pasture from the restrictions to be imposed.

6. The following were among the observations made on the Bill:—

(1). That it would add materially to the severity of the restrictions which might be imposed under Madras Act II of 1879.

(2). That the Government of India had proceeded with the utmost caution in the matter of legislation for the protection of fish and game, its enactment, XX of 1887, being practically limited to the encouragement of close time for wild birds and 'animals of game' in the neighbourhood of cantonments and municipalities.

(3). That, in the case of animals injurious to crops, their increase, especially in tracts exposed to ravages by animals from the neighbouring forests and undergrowth, would subject the cultivator to expense in protecting his crop, or to loss and injury, and that, in the case of game not injurious to crops, the restrictions might be irksome to, and misunderstood by, the people.

(4). That its provisions might affect certain hill-tribes who depend on fish and game to eke out their meagre supply of grain and consume as food animals which Europeans regard as game only for the purpose of sport.

(5). That the increase of game consequent on a strictly protective law would entail an increase of animals dangerous to human life, and the increase of such animals would no longer be equally kept in check by native shikaris who supported themselves by the capture of pig, deer, and other animals used as food.

(6). That before any such legislation is undertaken as was proposed by the Bill, there should be some information as to the extent to which it would affect the native population.

(7). That in any case cultivators should be allowed far larger liberty for the protection of their crops, and also their grazing land, than was proposed by the Bill, which was considered as altogether insufficient.

(8). That power to arrest without warrant should be limited to Forest Officers and to officers specially empowered by the Government itself.

(9). That the Rules made under the Forest Act afforded sufficient protection to game in reserved forests, and that, without strong evidence that further legislation is necessary in the interests of the public, it is hardly wise to undertake it.

7. After consulting the Board of Revenue with reference to the above criticisms, the Government of Madras were of opinion that the protection of game in the Nilgiri district would be sufficiently ensured by the operation of the Rules framed under the Madras Forest Act, 1882, and resolved not to proceed with the Bill.

8. If, however, after a consideration of the objections taken to the Madras Bill, the Durbar still wish to pass their Regulation, the Government of India, I am to say, will offer no objection.

(3). Extracts from Notes of the Legislative Department:—

The first draft of a Game Regulation was prepared by Colonel Grant in 1890. It did not apply to fish. It classified game into "large game" and "small game," prohibited the killing of the females and young of certain large game, and provided a close season for small game. It also contained somewhat elaborate provisions regarding licenses for the pursuit of game. This draft was, after some consideration, dropped as defective and unsuitable.

2. A second draft, based on a Madras Bill of 1890, was prepared by the Legislative Secretary in 1892; and in this (which applied to certain defined local areas only, with power to Government to further extend the Act) the distinction between large and small game was not kept up, and provision was made for the protection of fish, and for the regulation of the sale of fish and game.

3. A fresh Bill had meanwhile been prepared by the Government of Madras in 1892. The local extent was therein proposed to be restricted to a very few defined hilly tracts; the provision in respect of game licenses was given up; and power was retained to afford absolute protection to the females and immature males of any descriptions of game.

4. It was thereupon decided to adopt this Bill of 1892 as the basis of our game law, but to extend it to the whole territories, for the reason strongly expressed by Colonel Grant, viz., that a limited specification of local areas would be difficult especially in the case of the maidan, and would moreover defeat the object of the proposed measure, which was the adequate protection of all the animals, some inhabiting jungle tracts and some the maidan, included under the comprehensive term "game."

5. A third Draft Regulation was accordingly prepared and circulated among the Dasara Representatives of 1893. It, however, contained two provisions not found in the Madras Bill, one for the absolute protection of animals and birds, not being game, the pursuit or killing of which might be considered unsportsmanlike, and the other for regulating the capture and slaughter of animals and birds largely destroyed to meet the commercial demand for their skins or plumage.

6. This Draft Regulation, with a letter explaining its object and scope, was forwarded to the Resident in February 1894, and the views of the Government of India were requested. The Government of India considered the measure; but contented themselves with desiring that the objections taken to the proposed legislation in Madras with the grounds thereof should be communicated to the Durbar, adding that, if thereupon the Durbar still wished to pass their Regulation, the Government of India would offer no objection.

7. The objections referred to have since been duly considered; and most of the alterations suggested by the Government of India have been embodied in our Draft Regulation, as also the following further changes (among others) :—

Section 1.—The limitation of the extent of the Regulation to "such local areas as may, from time to time, be specified by Government by notification in the official Gazette."

Section 2.—The addition of the word "grouse" after "partridge," in accordance with a suggestion received from the Mysore district. The Game Acts of England also include the grouse under "game."

Section 3.—The insertion of the words "or otherwise inexpedient" after the word "unsportsmanlike." The latter expression does not by itself suitably describe the pursuit of animals and birds which it is expedient to protect "in deference to popular sentiment or in the interests of agriculture."

Section 4.—The substitution of the words "skins, horns or plumage," for the words "skins or plumage," since the horns of animals are also an inducement for their slaughter.

Also, the insertion of the words "or other" after "commercial."

Section 6.—The addition to clause (3) of the words "or the taking out or destruction of the eggs of game birds." This is an offence according to the law of England. (Sec. 24 of the Game Act of 1831.) The Madras Game Rules also prohibit the taking of the eggs of pea-hens and jungle-hens.

Clause (4) of the same section is new.

Clause (5) regarding licenses has been based upon the corresponding provision of the Mysore Arms and Explosives Regulations. The universal opinion is that no game law can be properly worked without a system of licenses. A system of game licenses does not necessarily involve the idea of private property in game, nor is it incompatible with efficient protection of game. Moreover, licenses form one of the essential features of the English Game Law.

Sections 8 and 9.—The insertion of words to cover the case of the animals and birds referred to in Sections 3 and 4, which are not necessarily game.

Section 11.—The omission of the word "specially," as it might be taken to refer to the grant of power by name. Colonel Grant is strongly in favor of empowering the servants of Game Associations to exercise the power of arrest: to admit of this being done, the words "or person" have been inserted after the word "officer."

(4). Letter No. 13635—Legis. 97, dated 12th April 1901; from the Dewan of Mysore; to the Hon'ble the Resident in Mysore :—

I have the honor to forward six copies of a Regulation, 'to prevent the indiscriminate destruction of Wild Animals and Birds and to provide for the protection of Game and Fish in Mysore,' which has been passed as Regulation No. II of 1901, and which will come into force at the end of six months from the date of its publication in the Mysore Gazette.

2. The criticisms and suggestions communicated in your office letter No. 2892-72—94, dated the 21st August 1894, have been duly considered by the Durbar before passing the present measure, which, to a great extent, gives effect to them, and which has been further revised in accordance with the experience gained and the views elicited during the last seven years.

3. I may observe that the restrictions contained in the Regulation are directed chiefly against the reckless and indiscriminate destruction of animals, regardless of season, age or sex; and that there is nothing in it calculated to affect injuriously the just and reasonable rights of the population in general or of the livelihood of any class in particular. At the same time, the right of the cultivator has been fully recognised to pursue game even beyond the limits of his land, so far as this may be necessary for the protection of his crops.

4. The Government of India are understood, from the observations quoted in the letter under advertance, to be averse to provisions requiring sportsmen to take out licenses for the reason that the sole object of any Game Law should be the protection of the wild creatures themselves and not of private property in game. The consideration suggested is entitled to very great weight. But, unfortunately, it seems certain that the absence of provision for the exercise of control over the pursuit of animals, such as a system of game licenses can alone adequately permit of, is calculated to be a serious obstacle to the success of attempts at the protection of game. The consensus of opinion in Mysore is also strongly in favor of a system of game licenses, which appears, indeed, to be equally one of the features of the Game Laws of England; while the analogy of Indian legislation in other matters, such as Arms and Explosives, shows that a system of licenses may be effectually resorted to for the control of rights which might otherwise be abused, without tending to the creation of any exclusive private right or privilege.

5. In conclusion, I beg to add that a Draft of Rules proposed to be issued under the Regulation will shortly be published in the Mysore Gazette for the elicitation of criticisms and suggestions from persons interested.

No. 13318—Legis. 92, dated Bangalore, 9th April 1901.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

Draft Rules under Regulation II of 1901.

The following Rules are prescribed by the Government of Mysore in exercise of the powers conferred by the Mysore Game and Fish Preservation Regulation, 1901. These Rules shall come into force on.....; but the provisions regarding licenses shall not apply to State Forests and Plantations.

1. The killing of monkeys, Brahman kites, parrots, and birds of song, is absolutely prohibited.

2. Except with the special permission of the Government, it shall not be lawful to kill pea-fowl or jungle-fowl in any part of Mysore for a period of five years from the coming of these Rules into force.

3. Fish in perennial streams or lakes (i. e., tanks) shall not be caught or destroyed during the spawning season, i. e., from the 1st January to the 1st June, both days inclusive, in any year.

4. READ—

The District Fund budget estimates of the Mysore Local Fund Circle for 1901-1902, submitted with letter No. 818, dated 23rd February 1901, from the President of the Local Fund Boards, Mysore District.

No. 13674-86—L. F. 4-1901, DATED BANGALORE, 13TH APRIL 1901.

ORDER THEREON—The receipts for 1901-1902, are estimated at Rs. 80,944 as against Rs. 76,132 the sanctioned estimate for 1900-1901, and Rs. 75,084, the actuals of 1899-1900

2. I. 76 Per Cent of Local Cess.—The estimate under this head is given as Rs. 60,428, in the consolidated budget statement, whereas the same ought to be Rs. 58,970, as per details given in the enclosure A, which shows that Rs. 60,428 represents the total estimate of 76 per cent of local cess, of which the portion expected to be collected and credited during the year to the District Funds is only Rs. 58,970. The President is requested to state whether no arrears are expected to remain under this head at the commencement of the year 1901-1902 and if not, under what circumstances a sum of Rs. 1,458, is expected to remain uncollected at the end of the year. Pending information, the estimate will be allowed to stand.

3. Tolls.—The recent establishment of a toll-gate at the Yedatore bridge under Government Proceeding No. 11702-3—57-98, dated 17th April 1899, of which the revenue is entirely creditable to District Funds accounts for the increase under this head. The estimate is passed.

EXPENDITURE.

4. A. Public Works to be executed by P. W. D.—The provision under "II Repairs" includes the increased rates of mileage allotments from Rs. 60 to Rs. 80, on account of the maintenance of the 36 miles of the Kanlandi-Kollegal and Chamrajnagar-Narsipur roads and reserve grants of Rs. 2,100, for minor works. The estimate is retained, pending the issue of final orders on separate references made by the President in regard to the former.

5. B. Public Works to be executed by the Revenue Department.—The provision made under this head for purposes noted in the margin will be retained, subject to the submission of promised details for works to be undertaken by the Departmental agency.

	Rs.
Sinking wells and improving water kattes ...	10,000
Improving cart-tracks and village sanitation ...	8,8[illegible]0
Reserve grants	1,568
Repairing existing musafirkhanas	1,500
Total ...	22,028

6. C. Civil Charges.—The decrease under "I. Establishment" is due to provision made in the present budget for the minimum salary of the Head-clerk in the President's office, who was hitherto drawing the maximum salary of the post, that under "II. Medical scholarships" to the omission of the provision for the scholarships of the students of the Indigenous Hospital at Mysore, who would have completed their course of studies before the commencement of the year and that under "III. Hospitals and Dispensaries" to the provision made for only ⅓rd instead of ⅔rds cost of the dispensaries in the Mysore City under Proceedings No. 12322-5—L. F. 138-92, dated 12th May 1900.

7. Sweepers for 3rd Class Travellers' Bungalows and Musafirkhanas—The provision made for the salaries of sweepers for the musafirkhanas at T.-Narsipur and Talkad chiefly accounts for the increase under this head. The provision is retained, subject to the authority of Government being quoted in respect of the former.

8. The other items call for no remarks and are passed.

9. The budget estimates of Receipts and Expenditure of the Mysore Local Fund Circle for 1901-1902, are sanctioned, as per details given in the accompanying appendices, of which an abstract is given below :—

3. Receipts.—The decrease under House and Shop Taxes as well as under Rents from Houses is due to plague, and the increase under Tolls to the introduction of tolls into the City with effect from 1st July 1900, under Government Proceedings No. 12382-3—L. F. 64-99, dated 15th May 1900.

5. III. Collection.—The increase provided under this head is on account of the allowances to be given for four months to the Octroi manegars and peons, as proposed in President's No. 596, dated 27th February 1901, and of the additional establishments, etc., already sanctioned. The provision is allowed.

6. *IV. The estimate is retained.

2. Land Revenue.—Owing to the introduction of the Survey Settlement, there was in 1899-1900 a considerable increase of revenue from sale of lands for occupation in the Nanjangud taluk. In the Krishnarajpete taluk a large sum of Rs. 10,208, omitted to be brought on the account in the previous year, was brought to book in 1899-1900. Similar increase not being expected this year, there is a net decrease of Rs. 20,532 in the Mysore district.

3. Abkari.—The increase of Rs. 97,293 under this head is reported to be due to the sale of arrack shops and toddy vend farms and the working of tree-tax system.

4. Sayer.—The heavy falling off of Rs. 26,058 under this head in the Shimoga district is reported by the Deputy Commissioner to be chiefly due to decrease in the production of arecanut.

5. Talukwar details, with reasons for important fluctuations, are given in the statement annexed.

Official Memorandum No. 1948-55—R. 790, dated the 9th September 1898, requesting the Deputy Commissioners of districts to submit reports on Subject No. 127 of the Representative Assembly Proceedings of October 1897, regarding the reduction of proportionate jodi on inam lands taken up by Government for the reservation of a margin of ten feet on the rear slopes of tank bunds.

(3) Correspondence ending with letter No. 16, dated 22nd August 1900, from the Superintendent of Inam Settlements in Mysore.

No. 8034-42—R. F. 183-92, DATED BANGALORE, 10TH APRIL 1901.

ORDER THEREON—With reference to the rules published under Notification No. 21429—R. F. 183-92, dated 18th June 1893, for the delimitation of the margin of ten feet to be kept uncultivated below the bunds of tanks, it was represented at the meeting of the Representative Assembly held in 1897 that the jodi on inam lands should be reduced in proportion to the extent taken up and reserved by Government, and thereupon the opinions of the Deputy Commissioners of districts and the Superintendent of Inam Settlements were called for on the subject. The Deputy Commissioners of Bangalore, Tumkur and Mysore report that in their districts there have been no cases of inam lands acquired and reserved under the aforesaid rules, while the Deputy Commissioners of Kolar, Hassan and Shimoga do not explicitly say whether there were any cases of the kind in their districts. The Deputy Commissioner of Kadur states that there are about 187 cases of such reservation in his district, that in 43 cases the proportionate survey assessment has been deducted from the jodi amount, and that in other cases no proportionate jodi has yet been deducted. In the Chitaldrug district, there are about 40 such cases of reservation. All the Deputy Commissioners are unanimously of opinion that proportionate jodi may be deducted on the extent of the inam land taken up and reserved, as prayed for by the members of the Representative Assembly. The Superintendent of Inam Settlements states that the best way of dealing with such inam lands is, to pay money compensation for them and that the other alternative is the proportionate reduction of jodi to which the persons concerned are entitled.

2. The point for decision is how the jodidars should be compensated for the loss of their lands taken up for reservation of the prescribed margin below tank bunds. For the loss of land the jodidar, if he is himself the occupant, or the occupant, if he be other than the jodidar, is entitled to money compensation and the jodidar is in addition entitled to a proportionate reduction of the jodi amount.

Government Proceedings No. 7601-615—R. F. 46-97-98, dated 24th April 1899, issuing instructions regarding the collection of the Statistics of Agricultural Stock in Mysore, and the preparation of the Khaneshumari account.

No. 8119-28—R. F. 46-97, DATED BANGALORE, 11TH APRIL 1901.

ORDER THEREON—It has recently come to the notice of Government that since the date of the Order read above, a diversity of practice has sprung up as regards the preparation of the Khaneshumari account, village form No. 11. In some taluks, the registers are written annually as before; in some only the changes are noted, while in others they are not written at all. This is not as it should be. The Khaneshumari account is intended to show particulars not only of agricultural stock but also of population and other details as indicated by the several headings prescribed. The Order of Government, dated 24th April 1899, relates exclusively to the collection of statistics of agricultural stock with a view to obtain correct figures of which a methodical enumeration, once in five years, was ordered. The writing up of the village form from year to year was never intended to be dispensed with altogether. On the other hand, para 26 of the order requires that the account of agricultural stock should run for the entire quinquennium and be liable to further scrutiny by Jamabandi Officers. In other words, the statistics of agricultural stock must be repeated annually until the next enumeration takes place, and the whole account as regards other particulars must be properly prepared and scrutinized every year. No time should therefore be lost in getting the account written up completely where it is found that it is either not prepared at all or written up imperfectly. It is hoped that Deputy Commissioners will issue early and suitable instructions in the matter.
